He lost his temper and struck Catcher Abbott, who retaliated by striking McGann with the ball. The men were separated by the players of their respective teams, and as McGann walked to the bench a number of speciators threw cushions at him. He was taunted by the crowd and several of the visiting players threatened to go into the pavillion. A youth, who was selling soft drinks, was struck in the face by one of the New York players. Afterthe game, a crowd followed the carriages occupied by the champions, hurling bricks and mud after the members of the team. McGann and Abbott were placed on the bench. Yale won by a score of 5 to 6, the game being a tie until the fifth inning, when Virginia got one run.

The Virginia boys declare that it was only by good luck that Yale won, their claim being that the game would have castly gone to Virginia but for the wild throw of pitcher Adams in the eighth inning, when two men were on ready to come in.

Other features were the infield work of Yale, which Virginia declares was quite clean, and the battery work of Virginia, which was much stronger than that of Yale. Score:

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Meeting Postponed From April Meeting Postponed From April 26-28 to July 6-8, in Charlottesville

The meeting of the State Teachers' Association, appointed to be held in Lexington on April 26, 28, is postponed until July 6, 7, it will be held in Charlottesville during the Summer School of Methods. The postponement was decided on for three reasons, mainly:

The school session is nearing its close and many of the leading teachers of the State found that they could leave their schools at this time only at very great inconvenience. (By Associated Press.)
GLENWOOD SPIRINGS, COL., April 2.

President Roose-velt and party, according to a report re-ceived to-night, were up early to-day, and, taking their tents on their backs, started for the William Gregor ranch, which is twenty miles from New Castle. They pitched their camp on the banks of West Divide Creek, and will remain there until some time next week. P. B.

State found that they could leave their schools at this time only at very great inconvenience.

The later date will be convenient for many who wish to attend-both the Summer School of Methods and the annual convention of the association.

It has been recently learned that the date chosen for the Lexington meeting conflicts with the date fixed for the meeting of the Southern Education Board, as well as the date appointed by the State Board of Education, for the election of division superintendents.

We feel sure that the change will meet with the hearty approval of all interested in education. The association is doing a most excellent work in crousing a general interest among the teachers of the State. It has especially been helpful to the teachers of rural schools, and a large majority of the counties and cities now have good local teachers' associations.

The association has recently issued an interesting Bulletin, as its official organ is called, in which the following reading course is planned. The course, if not carried out, cannot prove otherwise than helpful in broadening the minds and increasing the professional zeal of Virginia teachers; year again took the lead by defeating the other teams.

The first game, between the Manchester Colts and the Northside Students, was interesting from the fact that at two critical points the Southsiders looked like winners. A peculiar play was made by Hogan in the seventh inning, with the basses filled. He bunted, and as what might have been expected, a double-play resulted, when an outfield fly might have gained at least one more, run. The crowd was puzzled, but Hogan had figured on beating out the bunt.

and giving the man on third leeway for a run.

While Barton Heights won the game, it was not found an easy task, for the Coits are getting together, and on yesterday played an errorless game.

The second game went slow, because it looked like the Brownies' game from the second inning, and only got interesting in the sixth, when Bender's men got next to Hulcher and hit him good and hard. The crowd that had grown listless, warmed up at that stage, for it looked something like possible victory for the Richmonds after all:

Manchester was shy in base running and team work, but it showed improvement and when the team goes against the Brownies on Monday afternoon, the chances are favorable for them. The Brownies played with their old time snap, and Barton Heights put up splendid team work. Richmond is much stronger than last year, and here is the detailed score of the first game, in which Edwards, Jennings and Houchins put up good work. Charter will pitch for the Coits on Monday afternoon.

It is an acknowledged fact that as an investment nothing is safer more desirable and more readily converted into cash than the stock onverted into dash than the stock in a well-conducted bank, and it can be added with propriety, that few propositions on a safe and legitimate basis prove more profitable than the original subscripable than the original subscriptions to a large bank in course of formation.

It is proposed to organize here the Southern interstate Bank, with an authorized capitul of One Million Dollars, and in order to distribute the holdings, which is always of advantage to a banking institution, the par value of each share is put at the small sum of One Dollar, and subscriptions will be accepted in any sum convenient to the subscriber, from $10 upwards. In order to make it easy for everyone to become a stockholder, the purments may be made in ten equal monthly instalments.

Good as Government Bonds.

Good as Government Bonds.

In these days of "Frenzied Finance" and speculative propositions it is well to bear in mind that the holdings in a large bank are, as to security and availability, next to United States government bonds and involve in no way risk or speculation. While this is true, it is also a fact that nearly all large banks have proven, in the matter of revenue and increase of values equal to the best speculative proposition without the attendant risk. Therefore, the opportunity offered in this case to every person, whether of moderate income, large or small means, to become a stock-holder should be embraced, as it inquestionably will be by practically every one to whose attention the subject is called. It is usual that only capitalists can only the profit and pleasure of being stockholders in large banks when in course of formation, but in the case of the Southern Interstate Bank, it wishes to create awnership as well as friendship among the musses, and every person who has anything at all to spare can thus endoy the profit and advantage of becoming a holder of stock in a prominent bank, which will not only be a good dividend payer, but is certain to rise rapidly in value after the bank is once in operation. Such has been the experience of all large banking institutions, and there is govery reason why the Southern interstate Bank should fall in line.
